Gov't Lodge Work Begins

Construction started this week on the Alberta government's tourist lodge at Macleod in southern Alberta.

The $300 building will have a log siding exterior, but there will be nothing of the frontier touch about its interior.

Teletype machines, which are to be installed, will provide tourists with information as to road conditions, and will be used to obtain last winter that all requirements "within reason" for the city would be met.

The lodge will be completed by the end of July and will be staffed by a Macleod Board of Trade employees.

Mauling By Cougar Fatal To Indian Boy

VANCOUVER, June 20.—(CP)—A seven-year-old Indian boy, mauled Saturday by a vicious cougar, died last night at the small Indian fishing village of Kyquoot, B.C., 237 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Today a hunt will start for the beast which is alleged to have mauling the victim, son of fisherman Dominic Taylor.

Scanty reports received from Kyquoot said the lad was mauled before witnesses.

East Pilot Unhurt

OTTAWA, June 20.—(CP)—Lieut. Jack Runciman, 25, of Montreal and Dartmouth, N.S., was unhurt today when his Navy Sea Fury aircraft crashed during an emergency landing at St. Eugene, Que., about 65 miles east of here.

The plane had engine trouble.

City Still Not Getting Cement Requirements

Edmonton is still not getting delivery of badly-needed cement although this city is Canada Cement Company's "base customer" in Western Canada.

That's what Mayor Harry D. Ainlay had to say today on the latest question which has been worrying the city engineer's department, faced with one of the biggest paving and construction programs in its history.

Stating there has been no further communications from Canada Cement Co. officials at Exshaw and that promised deliveries are not forthcoming, Mayor Ainlay added:

CITY AIDS PLANT

"Furthermore if it were not for our city power plant the cement plant at Exshaw would not be able to operate."

He explained that under the interchange of power agreement between City of Edmonton and Calgary Power Co., electric power from the city plant makes possible operations at Exshaw and the large chemical plant in Calgary. Calgary Power is unable to meet the local requirements.

The city has already had to purchase one car of American-made at $500 above the Canadian price to keep paving and sewer construction programs going.

According to the mayor and commissioners the management of the Exshaw plant gave assurance last winter that all requirements "within reason" for the city would be met.

The city was even advised not to stockpile cement because there would be no difficulty in filling requirements from the Exshaw plant, it was stated.

In the meantime, Civic officials have heard rumors of heavy shipments from the Exshaw plant to Ontario and other eastern provinces.

Canada Cement Co. officials have denied they are shipping large quantities of cement to Ontario hide from the commission. There were informed that 300 cars loads have gone east.

Man Sought For Attacks On 2 Girls

Molesting Occurs In Two Separate Districts of City

A city-wide manhunt is underway here today as police seek a middle-aged man believed responsible for molesting two little girls over the week-end.

The two attacks, which occurred in different parts of the city, were similar in circumstance and led police to believe the same man is responsible for both.

City police, alarmed over recent upsurge in sex crimes in the city, have alerted every officer to be on the lookout for the wanted man.

FIRST ATTACK FRIDAY

The first attack was reported Friday night when a young girl told her parents she had been accosted in Herdian Park.

On Saturday a youngster returning from her dancing lesson to her west end home, told her parents she was forced into heavy brush near 108 avenue and 131 street by a middle-aged man who asked her to take his young daughter to a movie.

The youngster said she refused and the man led her into the bush where he is alleged to have molested her.

Police said the youngster was examined by a physician and found to be suffering shock and bruises to her legs, but otherwise was unhurt.

CHIEF ALERTS FORCE

Police Chief Ned Jennings today said:

"We are very much alarmed by these incidents. The morality squad has orders to do all possible to track this man down."

The chief also expressed grave concern over the increase in sex crimes in the city.

In recent weeks six city men have been charged with rape and five cases of indecent assault have been reported since the first of the month.

Mayor Harry Ainlay, commenting on the recent crime spate:

"This is the most despicable of crimes. These men must be punished with utmost severity."

ROSES FOR MOTHER

Roses are being forwarded to the higher brackets as well as lower ones.

Jimmy McLeod crossed the finish line less than two hours before runner-up Baby Harder, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Harder, South Edmonton, who arrived at 2:30 a.m.

Two early by ten minutes was the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. John, 1044-120 st., who arrived at Macleod hospital at 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

NEW SUIT FOR DAD

Serving father as well as son, Ted Sharnum Men's Wear are presenting Cpl. McLeod with a new civilian suit.

Cpl. McLeod served overseas during the war with No. 6 (RCAF) Bomber Group in Yorkshire, England.

Cpl. and Mrs. McLeod are parents of two other children, Glen Stewart, five, and Barbara Lynn, two.

The cocker spaniel pup was left on display in a window of a pet shop where the proprietor told Saturday, 50 were the goldfish.

Sunday passersby noticed the pup leaping against the sides of the glass tank barking at the dashing fish inside. Finally he got a passing fish and ate it.

The fisherman found the fish attractive. The pup clung to the tank's edge and barked. A

A crowd-tolerant and police were summoned. Police called the fisherman and his son, rescued the dripping pup.

MART BENDER'S BENDER IS NO HICCOUGH CURE

GALESBURG, Ill., June 20.—Martin Bender's bender did not cure his hiccupping. Bender, 42, hiccupped for three days and then, in angry frustration, police said he got drunk. Police arrested him on intoxication charges and his hiccupping kept the other jail residents awake.

Finally Bender was taken to hospital. There sedatives calmed his morning-after nerves—and there's slowing up the hiccup. He only hiccupped five or 10-minute spells now.

Man Kills 3, Wounds 5, Suicides

Quarrel With Wife Believed Cause Of East Massacre

SUDBURY, Ont., June 20.—(CP)—An enraged factory worker shot three men to death, wounded five others and then killed himself Saturday night in a twilight massacre which stunned this northern Ontario mining city.

The deadly massacre was 48-year-old Clarence Brouseau, who barricaded himself in his seat, frame house in Sudbury's western suburbs and held off an armed posse of 15 policemen and volunteers for more than two hours before ending his life by putting a bullet through his abdomen and another through his head.

His victims were two police constables and three civilians. His victims were two police constables and three civilians.

The reason for the police battle—it began shortly before 8 p.m.—was a quarrel between Brouseau and his wife, apparently over his drinking.

Mrs. Brouseau and their two young children sought refuge in a neighboring apartment where they were holed up for some time.

Firing through his windows with a shotgun, Brouseau killed and wounded these persons:

DEAD

Constable Ed Turrell, 23, married and the father of one child.

Constable Harry Dault, 32 married and the father of one child.

James Gorman, about 50, died when he moved into Brouseau's line of fire.

Wounded:

Police Sergeant Lloyd Hanwell, shot in the right arm.

W. J. Pelletier, a bystander, shot in the left foot.

David McKenney, Sudbury ambulance attendant, shot in the right wrist, forearm and abdomen as he tried to move one of the slain constables from the hot-spattered street.

German, 21, Copper Cliff, Ont., grazed on the head by the bullet which killed Constable Dault. He is a nephew of James Gorman.

CRIPPLING

The premier's office was attended by a group of Progressive Conservative supporters but the press was excluded.

The commission said present restrictions on giving such advice should be removed from public clinics.

Heat Halts, Water Short At Montreal

MONTREAL, June 20.—(CP)—The heat wave which plagued Montrealers for the last week came to an end Saturday as the city's water shortage showed no immediate signs of improving. The waterworks department reported a shortage of 20,000,000 gallons in its reservoir.

A crowd-tolerant and police were summoned. Police called the fisherman and his son, rescued the dripping pup.

The pup promptly started leaping against the side of the tank. The fisherman found the fish attractive. The pup clung to the tank's edge and barked. A

Politics

Camille's flamboyant Mayor Camille Houde is at it again. He estimates there are 20,000 militant Communists and 50,000 loyal travellers in Canada.

Cold War

Tithism is being regarded as a cancer by the Soviet Union. And Soviet "surgeons" are starting to wield the knife. Suspected pro-Tithists in other satellite countries are being purged right and left.

Science

Bombers will really have a tough time in the next war according to a recent Washington announcement. A guided missile has been developed that will seek and knock down the high-flying bombing plane. The weapon will not be mass-produced yet because further refinements must be made.

Poisonous fish may prove of benefit to mankind. Medical researchers in California are examining the venom from the stingray. It may become useful as a painkiller when used in diluted form.

Sydney Industry Power, Coal Cut

Aussie Gov't Order Brings Jobless Threat To 230,000

SYDNEY, Australia, June 20.—(CP)—Electric power for Sydney's industry will cease Tuesday, leaving 230,000 jobless by the end of the week.

Supply authorities last night warned Joseph Cahill, state minister for works, that if the government's order cutting electricity supplies, they will be unable to meet the demand. The New South Wales cabinet ordered regulations halting the use of electricity by industry and drastically restricting its use in homes.

STRIKE THREATENS

Gas companies warned that the last trickle of gas will cease this morning and that little or no gas will be available for at least a week—no much longer if the miners start their threatened general strike June 27.

Steel mills at Newcastle have discharged nearly 6,000 men and unions believe another 6,000 will lose their jobs there this week.

APPEALS FRUITLESS

Labour leaders' appeals to miners at the weekend had no effect and the miners' leaders are standing firm on the demand to shut all miners in Australia next Monday unless their demands are granted.

Charles Anderson, president of the New South Wales Trades and Labour Council said: "I am not taking the decent elements with me in this fight to prevent their organization being smashed by a few working-class traitors who call themselves Communists."

Thus far neither federal or state governments have made an open move against the miners.

Czechoslovaks Uneasy As Bishop Defies Gov't

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 20.—(UP)—Czechoslovakia waited uneasily today for the Communist government's reply to Archbishop Josef Beran's defiant "no surrender" call to the nation's 9,000,000 Roman Catholics.

The 61-year-old primate threw down the gauntlet yesterday by his most outspoken pastoral letter yet against the government's attempts to muzzle him. The letter was read in most of the nation's Catholic churches despite a reported police warning it was illegal.

ARCHBISHOP HECKLED

Monsignor Beran tried to speak out in person against the Communist regime in St. Vitus Cathedral yesterday, but, drowned out by an apparently organized group of shouting, whistling hecklers, he returned to the seclusion of his nearby palace.

He was still there today, along with Czech secret police who aimed control of his office last Wednesday and now are painstakingly examining his file. Czech Catholics feared this might be the prelude to another Mandelstam trial.

The Archbishop had his own position abundantly clear in the 1,000-word pastoral letter read by Catholic priests to the faithful yesterday. It succinctly was drafted by Monsignor Beran before the police entered into his office.

ACCUSES GOVERNMENT

In it, he accused the government of trying to undermine Roman Catholic ideology, seeking to replace religion with Marxism and attempting to appropriate for the state "all rights, even in matters of conscience, faith and morals, which Christians can recognize."

"Every Czech and Slovak Catholic must realize his time of test has come in which he has to tell the sheep from the wolves in sheep's clothing, and that in issues of religious freedom there can be no compromise whatever," he said.

It is a question of the eternal salvation of every immortal soul. He reiterated that all Catholics who participate in or cooperate with the government-sponsored "Catholic" action movement will be "punished by church punishments."

Vatican Ousts 'Action' Group

VATICAN CITY, June 20.—(Reuters)—The Vatican today decreed the excommunication of all members of the "Catholic Action" movement recently organized by the Czechoslovakian government.

The Vatican decree continued: "Such action" (referring to the Catholic Action group) is most unfair because its patrons did not hesitate to compel many by force or by threat to give their names, and even dared to list and publish among the adherents many priests and laymen who never gave their adhesion and had even expressed their dissent.

The 13 brotherhoods, representing some 100,000 Canadian railway workers, announced Friday they will seek a seven-cent-an-hour wage increase, a five-day, 48-hour week with the same take-home pay as for 48 when their current contract expires July 3.

FEED SHORTAGE LOOMS

In Southeastern Alberta, usually Alberta's "dry belt," last week's rains have promoted crop growth.

Serious feed shortage is predicted for all parts of the province if the drought continues.

Wheat is estimated to be only two feet high at this time of year, average about seven inches in height.

Pastures are bare in most sections as result of dry spring weather.

Heavy Assay Gold Yielded In S.A.

JOHANNESBURG, June 20.—(Reuters)—Gold assaying 271 inch-pennyweights has been brought up from a fifth deflection of the borehole on Erford farm in the Orange Free State, site of the sensational gold strike of June 3, it was officially announced last night.

An inch-pennyweight is a standard measurement of gold arrived at by multiplying the width of a reef in inches by the yield valued in pennyweights for each ton. A pennyweight is 1.20 of a Troy ounce.

Mystery Deepens In Coast Double-Slaying

VANCOUVER, June 20.—(CP)—Pale, wavy-haired Walter Frustkyko was charged Saturday with the mysterious week-old double murder of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Geluch. He appeared calm as he stood before magistrate Oscar Orr with small, balding William Worebe, material witness in the bizarre deaths of the elderly couple.

Frustkyko was charged on what Chief Constable Walter Mulligan called "strong circumstantial evidence" although no official report has been received from the coroner on the cause of death.

The blotted, decomposed bodies of the Geluchs showed no marks of violence when police broke into their four-room bungalow after a neighbor became suspicious of silence surrounding the house.

SAFETY FEARED

At the first arraignment a police witness asked the Magistrate to hold Worebe in custody because of fears for his safety.

Detective C. W. Mackay estimated something might happen to the material witness if he were allowed his freedom on bail.

Frustkyko's arrest dimmed a week-long, "cold-trail" investigation of the twin deaths. "But we can't tell you how the investigation led to these men," said Chief Mulligan.

Worebe is a former air force tailor and has been in Vancouver with his wife and family since 1946. Frustkyko, who has been using the name of Preston, is said to be from Windsor, Ont., and legally separated from his wife for 10 years.

AWAIT INQUEST VERDICT

Preliminary hearing, set for June 27, awaits the coroner's verdict on cause of death. No date has been set.

The Geluchs' bodies were found on the floor of the home, the husband's in the kitchen, covered by a bedspread and his wife's in the bedroom.

Battle Royal Draws Police Investigation

Spy... By the Staff

Working on an all-fair-land-warrior principle in a Edmonton couple staged a battle royal involving one glass picture frame, one carving knife, one meat mallet and one pair of male fists.

Police were called to the scene of action Saturday morning after a passing motorist had seen a woman "covered with blood running into a house."

On arrival, police found a husband with a meat mallet in one hand and a carving knife in the other. Investigation revealed he had been accused by his mate of being in with another woman.

The Mrs. drew a picture frame with good aim, revealing in the process a bloody nose and grabbing both meat mallet and knife.

No charges have been laid.

Canada's Service Men Start Federal Ballot

Men of Canada's three armed services went to the polls today, one week ahead of the June 27 federal election civilian voting date.

Under elaborate plans worked out by officials of Western Army Command and North West Air Command, 46 special voting places opened for the peace-time force to cast ballots before June 25.

Squadron-Leader Johnny Comar and Major Ayres were appointed special liaison officers, supervising setting up of polling places and distribution of ballots.

Ballot boxes are located at points covering Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, Yukon-Mackenzie and North West Territories.

NATURAL GAS

Natural gas is clean, easily regulated and cheap. It is available in Alberta, in large, but as yet undetermined quantities.

There has been talk of exporting our gas to the United States.

My stand is simply this: until there is an abundance of gas to take care of OUR needs, well into the future, it should not be exported.

Even then, there should be safeguards to protect the price paid by Alberta consumers.

Edmonton's Air Show

The Timid Soul

By Webster

Black Scott

Columnist Sets Out To Explore Garibaldi Park

Every ounce of interest and enthusiasm in this city should be thrown behind the Chamber of Commerce and service club plan to stage a great air show in Edmonton in 1950.

Excellent committees have been set up to deal with all phases of the project. But what it needs above all else is the faith and support of the general public.

There was a wave of popular zeal for the proposal when it was first suggested earlier this year. But the Exhibition Board threw cold water on it by declining to support the plan because it might interfere with the annual exhibition.

This appeared and still appears to many as a foolish position because a really great air show would bring tens of thousands of people to Edmonton who ordinarily would not visit this city.

And if the exhibition and the air show coincided in time, all these people would be additional customers for the exhibition.

However, the success of a really great air show does not depend upon the Exhibition Board or any other single organization in the city.

It depends primarily upon the vigor and enterprise of those forward-looking men who are promoting it and, secondly, upon the good-will and understanding of the people of Edmonton.

It is axiomatic in any theory of public relations that the promotion of a community among the tourists and investors of the world depends less upon the recital of its many admirable virtues than upon the exploitation of one single spectacular feature in which that community leads all others.

If Edmonton's air future appeared to be that feature in the spring, the coming of summer has intensified the importance of that feature.

For, since spring, Edmonton has become in truth as in promise one of the leading air centres of the whole globe.

We have achieved a position on the main line of Canadian trans-continental air lines.

We have at last become a direct passenger link with flights to the Orient.

In other words, the road that spans the world passes through this city.

This is the sort of thing that fixes the eye of the whole earth on a community.

And Edmonton can profit from it, in tourists and new industries and civic position in the world.

But it is not enough to have the wise and energetic efforts that are being made to focus the world's eyes on Edmonton through an air show of notable size and distinction.

Support the Philharmonic Society

The Edmonton Philharmonic Orchestra deserves much better support than it is getting from Edmontonians.

There is obviously nothing to worry about in connection with the quality of performances given during the past and preceding seasons.

Under Mr. Art Fratkan and his colleagues the musicians have attained a high measure of proficiency. And Mr. Fratkan's decision to not be a candidate for the re-elected conductorship next year is a regrettable one.

But while the productive side of the picture is bright and encouraging, the financial side is not so heartening.

The organization began the 1948-49 season with a balance of $745.26. It concluded that season with what would appear to a deficit of between $250 or even $500.

It does not appear to be a very great sum to stand between the Edmonton public and those splendid Sunday evening concerts.

At yet, as Mr. Micawber is said to have remarked, a single penny can make all the difference between the ability to operate and inability to operate.

Symphony and philharmonic societies are usually in financial difficulties because they require a great deal more money to pursue their useful work than the public generally understands.

But in a healthy, young, growing city like Edmonton where there is prosperity on every hand, it is surely not too much to expect that a philharmonic effort, and a first class philharmonic effort, should be kept alive with adequate subscriptions and donations.

At the stage of Edmonton's development, such an organization is more of a necessity than a luxury if only because it keeps the growing city from being too lopsided on the material side.

Regulates private broadcasting

That is the iniquitous, unfair and unbusinesslike way of doing business.

It is exactly the same thing as though the Canadian National Railway System was suddenly given authority to make all the rules for the Canadian Pacific Railway operations.

No matter what good-will and respect it is due to the CBC, the result is bound to be bad.

It would be absurd to insist that the fine producing organization of the CBC should be taken away from us. It is a producing and competing unit.

Radio control and authority in Canada should be vested in a government department that has no interest in producing radio shows.

Any other set-up is sure to be intolerable to a decent citizen.

MR. MILQUETOAST DECIDES THAT PERHAPS IT IS A BIT EARLY IN THE SEASON TO GO SWIMMING

Issue of Conscription

Editor, Bulletin.—I have heard all political parties expound their policies for governing our country, but I have not heard one of these parties mention what they would do in the matter of equal service; all in the case of a conscription war, others who just did not want to go to war were put in prison or tried as deserters.

Now, I think every elector should be aware of the fact that all political parties should come up with a definite statement as to what they will do to the conscription issue. I am sure that the electors would be glad to hear what the parties have to say on this issue.

Editor, Bulletin.—The time is short before we make a choice at the polls.

We are to make wise choices? So let's examine what our different parties have done, or what they stand for.

First and foremost, our Liberal government, by its choice of the majority of the electors, has seen us through in the last four years. It has brought us through the worst of the war, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

It has brought us through the worst of the post-war period, and it has brought us through the worst of the post-war period.

Absent Aldermen

Editor, Bulletin.—With regard to your editorial in the Edmonton Bulletin on June 15th, in connection with city aldermen neglecting their duties, I feel that you cannot be aware of the reason for the absence of at least three of the aldermen.

I understand that one of the aldermen was attending the mayor's conference, while Aldermen Hewitt and Cleave were both attending the 16th Annual Convention of the Alberta Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. As you are probably aware, Aldermen Cleave was elected to the highest position that can be offered to any Legionnaire in the Province of Alberta.

Aldermen Hewitt has been giving his services to the city for a period of twenty years and during that time he has never been absent from his duties. He is a very capable and efficient man, and he is a very loyal citizen.

I would suggest that the Legion Convention was called for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the welfare of the community, and that it was a very important meeting.

On the whole British correspondents who have been covering the news from the present conference in Paris have expressed dissatisfaction over the United States state department's arrangements for supplying the American version of developments.

Most of the information available regarding western plans is said to have come from British and French sources. The Russian version has been the least reliable.

Capture of Total Power Means Control of Police

ROME.—In the struggle of a powerful minority party for the capture of total power by the quasi-legal means of the modern revolution, the Italian government is held by the minority of the interior, in charge of the police.

To capture three ministries: police, propaganda and public information, and usually agriculture, has always been the minimum demand of all totalitarian parties.

Experience of this is an overwhelming fact. In the German case, for instance, the Western Allies did not insist on the principle of majority rule being clearly written into the German constitution, or why we still look with indignance on the multiple-party system.

The fractionalization of political life is the first condition for the realization of totalitarian ambitions.

In Italy, for the time being at least, the security system is strong because the forces are firmly in the hands of the constitutional forces—and so is the security of the police.

The Communists (and some Liberals) thoroughly hate Signor Mussolini, the minister of interior, and accuse Italy of being a "police state." But a strong police is not a sign of a police state.

In a police state the police are instruments of a single party, not of the constitutional order, and the minister of interior is not a part of the government.

No one, for example, can possibly be a part of the government if the distribution of Mussolini's police forces.

Apart from the visible, and registered police, there were thousands of "black shirts," syndicates, and internal espionage organizations.

Coldwell Urges Tax-Paid Health

Wants It Available To All On Same Basis As Schools

By Canadian Press Staff Writer

M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the CCF, wants health service made available to Canadians "just as school is to our children."

He set forth his ideas on a health program in a federal election campaign speech Tuesday night in Winnipeg. Continuing his campaigning in the west today, he has speeches scheduled for Regina and Indian Head, Sask.

"There is no such thing as 'free service' as he said in Winnipeg, 'it has to be paid for somehow.'"

He suggested that public ownership of banks and other financial institutions would help to meet the cost but the people would pay, just as they pay for their schools.

HOME RIDING WINDUP

Mr. Coldwell will remain in the west for the campaign's final week. Except for a Friday night speech in Saskatoon, he plans to spend his time until the voting June 27 in his home riding of Roseburg-Biggar.

Prime Minister St. Laurent spoke 19 times Saturday during a 300-mile trip by train and automobile from Oshawa, Ont., to Ottawa. He spoke tonight in Ottawa, tomorrow in Toronto and then moves eastward to Quebec and Newfoundland platforms.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, made a week-end campaign speech in Three Rivers, Que., and today in Quebec City. Later this week he will speak in Granby, Que., Sherbrooke, Que., and Montreal before returning to Ontario for speeches in Toronto, Belleville and Ottawa.

ST. LAWRY ANKNEY

Mr. St. Laurent said at Brockville that he is in constant correspondence with President Truman about the St. Lawrence treaty and that Mr. Truman "is just as anxious as we are" to get it started. At Kingston he said:

"We Liberals differ from the Conservatives in that we conceive of Canada as one nation with 10 provinces and not as a group of 10 separate states each of which has the right of veto over joint decisions of all."

He rejected Mr. Drew's charges of centralization with the argument that tax agreements offered the provinces by the Liberal government aim not at centralization but decentralization of wealth for the benefit of all Canadians.

HOWE APOLOGY DEMANDED

Mr. Drew said at Three Rivers that Trade Minister Howe should apologize in Quebec for saying that the (Progressive Conservative) candidates in Quebec are the type that you put into concentration camps. "Twenty-seven of the party's candidates in Quebec are war veterans," Mr. Drew said—and that is a record which compares favorably with that of any other province in Canada."

In his Three Rivers speech, and earlier at Joliette, Que., Mr. Drew pledged himself to uphold the constitutional rights of the provinces against any threat of federal interference.

Special Session Is Explained

Front page of the current issue of the Alberta Gazette today carried the proclamation of a special legislative session called for July 4.

Proclamation states the session, which will open at 3 p.m. is being called because "it is deemed expedient for certain causes and considerations to convene the Legislative Assembly."

M.L.A.'s will consider proposed legislation covering the export of natural gas from the province.

The population of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta is about 1,500,000, more than half live on farms or in rural areas.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE GIVES 71,000 AWARDS

OTTAWA, June 20.—(CPI)—More than 71,000 Canadians received awards for proficiency in first aid and home nursing from the St. John Ambulance Brigade last year.

This was double the number of awards given in 1948. More than 10,000 more than in 1947. C. A. Gray, sub-Prior of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, said the order's annual meeting Saturday.

Following the business meeting, Lt.-Col. J. A. D. McNulty of Nova Scotia and Henry Sellers of Winnipeg were invested as Knights of Grace of the order by Viscount Alton, Governor-General, and Prior of the order. The Governor-General, in a ceremony at Government House, also invested 42 other members.

Mr. Gray said that in Alberta, the brigade was holding first-aid classes in the province's oil fields because it considered first aid training vitally necessary following the development of the province's oil resources.

Mr. Gray reported the British Columbia brigade gave first-aid treatment to more than 3,000 persons during the heavy spring floods last year.

Those invested by the Governor-General as Officers Brumby included John Cook of Vancouver. Mrs. A. M. Leaso of Winnipeg was admitted as serving sister.

BRIDGE

Cross-Ruffing Wins Now Famous Hand

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

It was the take-the-bridge night from Martin Block, discussing the Sim-Culbertson match, which was held 14 years ago. We talked about the late P. Hal Sims, probably the most unforgettable character that bridge has ever known. Martin knew him, as he had done the announcing of the famous Sim-Culbertson bridge match in 1935. That, by the way, was Martin's first public radio event.

You might be interested to know how Martin Block started his famous "Make-Believe Ballroom" 15 years ago. It was in the "chips" today, says I was quite different some 15 years ago, when he was in California. Things were going so well so he took the family into the little Ford and started East. Before he was in New York a week, he was working as a disk jockey. That was where he started his "Make-Believe Ballroom."

Today the original disk jockey is heard all over the world. "The Voice of America," which re-broadcasts his show every Sunday led the people of the world know and understand the kind of music America loves.

We both remembered today's hand from the Sim-Culbertson match, as it was the hand which put the Culbertsons in the lead they maintained practically throughout the hundred rounds, to win the match by 16,136 points.

Culbertson won the opening club lead in dummy with the king and led a heart. Which Mrs. Sims won with the ace. The Jack of clubs was returned Culbertson discarded a heart. With a trick in clubs he ruffed a club. Now he elected to cross-ruff the hand out and not bother with a spade finesse.

I have underlined the last three cards. The lead was in Culbertson's hand, and he led the Jack of hearts, ruffing it in dummy with the ace of diamonds. Mrs. Sims was forced to under-ruff, and now Culbertson had the king and Jack of diamonds over Mrs. Sims' ace-three, with a lead in dummy. The only trick he lost was a heart.

More Price Cuts For Autos Due

Sharp Industry Competition Expected to Start in July

DETROIT, June 20.—(AP)—There will be more price reductions by the United States automobile industry this year.

Whether they will be made soon or be delayed for several weeks is anybody's guess. Such is the uncertainty in the car industry. One of the best guesses seems to be that the expected price-cutting adjustments will come after the current seasonal buying surge eases off.

SHARP COMPETITION LOOMS
Most industry experts believe this will be late in July. Then, they add, there will be the sharpest kind of price competition throughout the industry in the United States.

But even minor cuts—if made often—can worry competitors. General Motors, biggest of the auto makers, has demonstrated this. Twice this year, it has made $10 to $40 cuts on its passenger cars.

General Motors executives haven't said so, but there isn't much doubt that its future price cuts will be of like amount—at least during the life of its present contract with its workers. The agreement has another year to run. The cuts made this year were influenced by wage rates and material costs.

General Motors wage rates are tied to living costs as determined

More than 10,000 delegates, their wives and guests are expected to attend the five-day convocation, representing business and professional leaders in 3,000 communities. ## U.S. Spying Claim Reds

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—(AP)—The Chinese Communists charged Saturday that a "big American spy ring" directed by the United States Consulate and army liaison group in Mukden, has been uncovered in Manchuria.

The charge was aired in a broadcast by the Communist radio in Peking and heard by the Associated Press in San Francisco.

The broadcast alleged that the spy ring was set up shortly after the Japanese surrender in 1945 and had continued to operate underground after the Communist capture of Manchuria was completed last October.

In Nanjing, a United States Embassy spokesman called "fantastic" Chinese Communist charges that the American Consulate in Mukden had engaged in espionage.

1949 Is Seen Crucial Year for Australia

By Alan Reid

CANBERRA, June 20.—(Reuters)—Politically, 1949 is a crucial year for Australia.

Parties agree that the elections to be held about the end of this year may shape Australia's political and industrial pattern for a generation.

Fundamentally the question to be decided by the electors during the present year is whether a majority of Australians favor socialism.

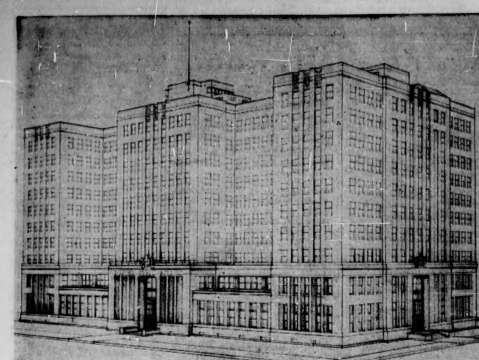

If the present labor government is returned to office, it will—as it has shown by its actions during its present term—implement legislation either wholly or partly socialist.

If the present opposition, the Liberal and Country parties, is returned, the trend will be away from state control towards encouragement of private enterprise.

DISASTROUS REACTION
Two years ago, the Labor government announced its intention of nationalizing the trading banks which would give the commonwealth-owned Commonwealth Bank a monopoly. The reaction was immediate, and for Labor, disastrous. Labor was thrown out of office at the state election in Victoria. It lost state by-election after by-election.

House of Commons appropriations set $150,000 aside for work on the building this year. George Heath Macdonald is the architect.

Democrats Lay Down Farm Vote Campaign

Two Drown At Kenora

KENORA, Ont., June 20.—(CP)—

Two U.S. visitors, John and Andy Trussa, brothers of Crow Point, Ind., were drowned Saturday in Beach Lake, east of Dryden Lake and some 60 miles southeast of here. Ontario provincial police recovered the bodies.

The two had been having their meals at a camp on Dryden Lake. When they failed to return a call made a search and found the canoe capsized and the men missing.

Constables George Sangster and C. K. Brett, responding to a call from Mount Narrows, recovered John Trussa's body late Saturday. His brother's body was not recovered until yesterday. No inquest will be held.

Russia Resumes Repatriation Of Prisoners

TOKYO, June 20.—(AP)—Russia

said today she is ready to resume repatriation of Japanese prisoners of war. Gen. Douglas MacArthur of the United States has been pressing the Soviet Union to speed up their return.

Just a week ago, MacArthur, allied commander in Japan, accused Russia of failing to live up to repatriation agreements. Allied headquarters and the Japanese government have accused Russia of holding 60,000 Japanese. A Moscow announcement last month said the "remaining 50,000 Japanese officers and soldiers" would be sent home "between May and November."

Reds in Jap Unions Finally Feel Squeeze

By O. H. P. King

TOKYO, June 20.—(AP)—The squeeze is being applied to Communist influence in Japan's labor movement.

The Reds have had some recent setbacks. Anti-Communists among the Japanese have made important gains in some unions.

That is the summation of Val Bursell, acting chief of the labor relations and education branch at Allied Supreme Headquarters.

The failure of the recent Tokyo streetcar strike was one example. That was a political strike. It is almost certain the Reds were behind it. The strikers were against tightening the public security laws.

SUPPORT REFUSED

Three chapters of the Tokyo Traffic Union pulled the walkout. It collapsed when the union as a whole refused to support the three chapters. Bursell also reports progress of the anti-Communist in the electrical union, long a Red holdout.

President Truman's political aides made the display in a bold and confident manner at a democratic farm conference at Den Moines last week.

Party leaders from a 16-state, corn-livestock-wheat-producing area attended the meeting. They went chiefly with the idea of learning more about the controversial Brannan Farm program and how to drum up support for it. The program was put forward by Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan.

CONGRESS STRATEGY
Spread before party leaders at Den Moines was the campaign strategy Truman and his advisers are preparing to hold control of congress in 1950 voting.

As the midwestern party workers read the cards, the strategy is about like this:

1. The president will battle for what he has termed his "fair deal" program.

2. He will seek election of Democrats committed to this program.

3. He expects farm-belt party officials to help mobilize and elect Democrats who will be sure to support his measures in the next congress.

4. He considers the Brannan farm program—with its aim of cheap food for consumers and high returns to farmers—a keystone of his program for preventing a depression and for passing along further economic benefits to agriculture and labor.

5. Truman believes 1950 offers an opportunity for permanently winning traditionally-Republican farm-belt from the Republicans.

CLEAR CHALLENGE
The meeting voted unanimously to go along with Truman, Brannan and senator S. Howard McGrath, (Dem., R. I.), National Democratic chairman, in challenging Republicans to a fight for the farm vote.

Some local party leaders acknowledged that some phases of Brannan farm plan are not too popular with farmers. In this category is a provision for taxing subsidies to assure farmers a good return and consumers low food prices.

But even with its objections, the Brannan plan is seen by democrats as a better farm-belt vote-getter than anything the Republicans can expect to offer.

Ava Gardner Star Of Rialto Film

Important Role Is Given Actress in Latest Picture

Hollywood's fastest rising star, Ava Gardner, had to possess more than acting ability to gain the most important role of her career to date in Universal-International's "One Touch of Venus," which opened a four-day run at the Rialto theatre today.

She was required to reveal to Producer Lester Cowan what an internationally famous sculptor, Joseph Nicolai, pronounced "the most perfect figure on the screen today."

As if the role of Venus did not call for the utmost in changeableness of mood on the part of the star, with its necessity and carriage, Ava was required actually to look like the statue of the famed Attolian Venus, which resembles her more closely than does the Venus de Milo the contours of woman of today.

To say that Miss Gardner filled the physical requirements is putting it mildly, in the opinion of Sculptor Nicolai, famed for his busts of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Andrew Mellon and other dignitaries and for his Italian War Memorial, among other triumphs.

Nicolai, for whom Ava posed when he completed a life-sized statue of the Attolian Venus for use in the film, announced that the statue was finished, "Miss Gardner is the closest link I have seen between the modern woman and the classic type. She possesses the right amount of fullness where necessary, to resemble the classic, and combines it with the slender, neat elsewhere which the modern concept of feminine beauty demands. She is the most perfect specimen of the female form I have had the privilege of putting into statuary."

Asked for her recipe, Miss Gardner provides little comfort to the average woman of today, inasmuch as she confesses to having as excellent appetite and eating practically anything she likes, and to doing virtually nothing in the way of exercise or athletics beyond plain hard work in one picture after another.

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD, June 18.—(AP)—Hi, pop! Yesterday was your day. And if you think you've got troubles, listen to Robert Young.

Bob is the father of four girls (three besides piano player).

When it's suggested that he might be a poor man if he weren't a movie star, he answers:

"What do you mean? I am a movie star and I AM a poor man. I've got the overhead of a small corporation."

He adds:

"I just don't have a chance in this household of women. They are all just masters in the art of psychology. They manage to get just about everything they want from me."

The situation is slightly different on Father's Day, said Young, on the set of a film wryly titled "And Behold These Three."

ONE DAY A YEAR
"For one day out of the year I am more than tolerated. It's a nice feeling, but so short-lived. The next day I go back to just being the guy who pays the bills."

"Between the newspaper ads and their mother's prompting, the girls always come up with something. I have a special drawer where I file away my gifts. The socks and dollar pigs are pushing out the sides."

"This year I expect to get the same to the sock I got for Christmas knitted by my oldest daughter."

The daughters range from 15 to three, the latter being the quiet one, "probably because she hasn't a chance against the others."

NEW INTERESTS
All are a constant source of wonderment to their father. For instance, there is 11-year-old Barbara.

Bludgeon Slayer to Hang As Insanity Plea Fails

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., June 20.—(CP)—George Chupnik, 26, Saturday was sentenced to be hanged on Oct. 3 for the bludgeoning-slaying of 16-year-old Irene Gobilas at her farm home on Dec. 26, 1945.

The Court of King's Bench jury which had heard the case for five days found Chupnik guilty as charged, after being out for more than 17 hours and returning to the court room three times for further instructions from Mr. Justice G. E. Taylor.

DEFENCE INSANITY
Walter Nelson, who had been appointed by the court to represent Chupnik's insanity at the time of the slaying, Mr. Nelson noted that Miss Gobilas had formerly been Chupnik's fiancée, and said no normal person would kill the one he loved. He said after the trial the verdict would likely be appealed.

The jury retired at 9:57 p.m. Friday and returned for further instructions three times yesterday. The jury returned to the court from the first time for application of medical evidence, the second time for a re-reading of parts of evidence, and the third time for a definition of insanity under the Criminal Code.

Prosecutor G. M. Satter contended the bludgeon slaying was premeditated and the motive was However, only Dr. Rothwell testified that in his opinion Chupnik was insane at the time. The others said they believed him sane and in possession of his faculties.

Chupnik first appeared before Court of King's Bench here in February, 1946, and on the preliminary issue of insanity was declared unfit to stand trial. Until the trial just concluded he had been confined in North Battleford hospital.

MONTREAL, June 20.—(CP)—Peter Coulson of Victoria, a former assistant deputy postmaster general of Canada, arrived here Saturday from the British West Indies aboard the cargo-b freighter Canadian Cruiser.

Mr. Justice Taylor said all four doctors agreed that had Chupnik been suffering from a mental disease at the time of the killing, he would not have known what he was doing or that it was wrong.

School Patrol Win Praises From Officials

Splendid work done by 420 members of Northern Alberta School Safety Patrol, was lauded by government, civic and police officials at a banquet in the Macdonald hotel Saturday.

Banquet was tendered by the Alberta Motor Association in honor of boys and girls who volunteer for traffic safety patrol at dangerous street crossings in the vicinity of schools.

Mayor Harry D. Atlay keynoted the attitude of several speakers when he said:

"Boys and girls, the job you are doing is vital."

LOUD CHEERS

President H. D. Chaucer, of the AMA, was loudly cheered when he told the banquet guests:

"It is more important to practice safety than to pass examinations in literature."

Dr. G. Fred McVail, chancellor of the University of Alberta, said he feels like lifting his hat to every patrol, because the people of Canada have expressed confidence in the authority of the young people.

Hon. C. E. Garbat, minister of municipal affairs, also expressed warm appreciation of the work of the boys and girls.

Others who spoke briefly were: Chairman C. H. Grant, K.C., president of the Northern Alberta branch of the AMA; W. F. Empey, director of the AMA; Ronald Macdonald, K.C., J. G. Macdonald, chairman Edmonton Public School Board; J. K. Killen, chairman Separate School Board; Walter Crawford, chairman school safety council; Chief Constable Reginald Jennings and Assistant Commissioner A. T. McVail of RCMP.

Bill Jackson who now lives at 5941 Denison Road had got along without riding firing machines for more than 74 years. He was prepared to get along without them for the rest of his life.

But 25-year-old Ed Jackson had other ideas on the subject. So he talked his father into going for a Father's Day flight over the city.

"How did you like it?" Mr. Jackson was asked as he stepped from Taylorcraft at Municipal airport yesterday afternoon.

"My God—me!" he beamed. "My first time, but it was great."

Mr. Jackson turned to his wife. "You'll have to go up next."

To which Mrs. Jackson gave vent to a vehement "Baaaaay!"

Mr. Jackson's first flight took him over the city and out to Leduc. He was up in the air for an hour but reports late last night that he still hadn't come down to earth.

Orvis Kennedy To Bibe Post

Orvis Kennedy, prominent Civic Centre organizer, was yesterday elected a trustee of the Glenside of Canada at conclusion of the organization's annual meeting in Hamilton, Ont.

George Abbott of Toronto was named president of the bibe group.

Plans have been completed and score sheets received from Ottawa for judging Veterans' Land Act small holding competition in Alberta.

Harry Allan, Veterans' Land Act District Superintendent, announced judging to determine winners of Alberta veterans' share of $600 in prizes will commence at once.

Competitions, which were announced a year ago, are for best development and improvement veterans have made in their small holdings and subdivisions since they took them over.

Figures released by Ottawa reveal 37,000 small holdings properties and 124 subdivisions will be entered in the next two months.

NO ENTRY FEES

Work in connection with this competition is under direction of Supervisor of Small Holdings for Alberta.

Four-Day Exercise Will End at Fort Vermilion

Edmonton's powerful 10th Armored Car regiment counter-attacked "enemy" outposts east of the city Sunday with a full scale armored offensive.

Yesterday saw the start of four-day armored maneuvers that will climax with capture of Fort Vermilion airfield. Following capture of the airfield, field training will be carried out for three days when the regiment moves to Fort Vermilion.

Practice of field firing by standard armored cars, light reconnaissance and regimental weapons will finish large-scale maneuvers ever completed in Alberta.

Imaginary enemy forces will be met out by the armored division. Operation marks first regimental training of any formation unit.

1st Col. J. W. Pryor, officer commanding the unit, is directing reconnaissance training.

"Exercise Vermilion" will serve as summer training for the armored unit.

SEVEN-DAY EFFORT

"Seven day attack will include 75 men and 21 armored cars," said army officials today. "They will proceed on tactical maneuvers from Edmonton to Fort Vermilion and back."

In "Exercise Vermilion" 10th Armored Car Regiment will simulate another test year.

Rehearsal following a recount in which returning officer Charles Flemming had to cast the deciding ballot was George B. Cole, Liberal, with a one-vote majority over George H. Wilson, Progressive Conservative.

The recount gave Cole 2520 and Wilson the same number as when called after the polls closed June 9, but the returning officer's ballot, raised upon to break the tie, gave the seat to Cole.

This changed the standing in the contest to 28 Liberals, seven Progressives, Conservative and two CPC members.

A CPC and independent Liberal candidate also ran in Hants West.

CRASH VICTIMS SHOW IMPROVEMENT HERE

Condition of six people injured in a spectacular two-car head-on collision Friday night was described as "slightly improved" today by Royal Alexandra Hospital.

The tragic accident which claimed two lives occurred on the St. Albert-Morinville highway, three miles south of Morinville.

Hospital officials say all are responding to treatment. None are in serious condition.

Killed were Mrs. Sadie Galbraith, of Colinton, and Vincent Delaney, 18, a hired man on the Galbraith farm.

'Stabilization' Ended, Miners Back to Work

PITTSBURGH, Penn., June 20.—(AP)—John L. Lewis' 480,000 United Mine Workers today trooped back to the pits as the UMW's contract negotiations neared the showdown stage.

Just as UMW distict leaders predicted, the weeklong "stabilization" walkout ordered by Lewis ended on schedule. The few mines operating midnight shifts reported full-scale production underway. Little absenteeism was expected as 7 a.m. shifts began.

U.K. Railmen Reject Offer

LONDON, June 20.—(Reuters)—One of Britain's two big unions of railway workers today rejected an offer by London Transport to increase the pay of some lower-paid employees on the London Subway System.

The offer of an increase of about three shillings (90 cents) a week was rejected by the executive of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. Both it and the National Union of Railwaymen are demanding a general increase of 10 shillings (2.40) a week and overtime pay for Saturday afternoon.

A "go slow" strike which would paralyze London Transport, which operates this city's subway and surface transportation system, is threatened by the London area railway workers if their demands are not met.

Bea Packs Her Bag For West Coast Trip

By Bea Thrifty
VANCOUVER, B.C.—I'm on my merry way! I'm on a holiday!
But it's not a man's holiday. I shall be keeping the typewriter hot for the eight-day jaunt of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster. I slipped away yesterday night... very early but not very bright.

Right now I'm happy as a little clam basking in the delights of the soothing air, breathing in the fragrance of roses, tulips and a colorful assortment of breathtakingly beautiful flowers.

I haven't had a chance to peruse the stores. My reports will start tomorrow. I'll later devote a hunt to see the much-talked of specialty shops, the oriental intrigue of Chinatown wares, the huge department stores.

When I left home in a very comfortable of pique, I paid $50 for a single pound of puny lamb chops... I huffed and I puffed and I still paid $50 for the chops.

Even if the new spring lamb had finally arrived... it's not worth a fantastic price like that.

I was unhappy about the butcher too. His usually the soul of kindness... but this lamb chop business was bit doubtful. I suppose he was a bit leary of the price hike.

You see he cut the blinck chop... before telling me the price... the budget just won't stand meat at that price... it won't.

My husband and I worked most industriously at the last-minute before my departure on the strawberry preserving. Heards and heards of people have bought under any scale of strawberries at very special prices of $5.25 per case.

Next week we'll see further increasing quantities and accompanying decreased prices. The berries are ripening rapidly and the quality may not hold as true to the mark of perfection as the berries we've had so far.

I must tell this sort of home-town news before I'm robbed up in this big, bad city of Vancouver, its news about corned beef—which is good news for home-makers and meat-makers.

The tinned corned beef which came back an eager market after many years absence first sold at 10¢ per lb.

Now with competitive brands making their way into the field, prices are becoming pleasantly lower. Now you may purchase a tin of corned beef at 30¢ and 40¢... in approximately the same line as the original 10¢ tin.

Neither this... corned beef in campers will be interested in the 10¢ tin of corned beef available by special order with your grocer.

This should prove a blessing indeed.

Well tomorrow... we'll have news in oceans of wonderful things to tell you about this city beside the ocean.

Round shoulders and a slumping back will respond beautifully to this exercise.

WHY GROW OLD Exercises Correct Round Shoulders

By Josephine Lowman
Q. "I have round shoulders. I slump all the time and my shoulder blades stick out in the back. I know this is unattractive. Please give me just one exercise to do each day, a good one."

A. Take one end of a broom handle or a wand in each hand, arms hanging at sides and stand in front of your body. Raise your arms overhead stretching upward. Raise your head as you do so. Bend your elbows and bring the broom handle or wand down behind your shoulders.

Hold this position 21. You straighten your spine and stretch your chest muscles. Hold a few moments and raise the arms overhead. Return to starting position. Continue, giving lots of time to the wand-bending shoulders position. Try to remember good posture at all times.

Q. Can you tell me how to get rid of lumps? I cannot seem to pronounce "I like others too. It is very embarrassing."

A. Unless there is a real physical defect present it is not your voice that is the trouble. You are a lot of good to go to a voice teacher and study. There is nothing to be afraid of. The voice teacher does not teach just what you want she can probably refer you to someone who does.

Q. "Please answer this in your question box. What is the easiest way of getting rid of hair that grows about the upper lip?"

A. If the hair is very fine you may be able to bleach it with peroxide so that it is not so noticeable. If it is coarse or the does not work, have it removed by an electrolysis. This method is permanent.

Q. "I am 21 years old. I am 5 feet 11 inches tall and weigh 135 pounds. My best measure is 33 inches waist, 25 inches and 40 inches. Please tell me if I am overweight."

A. No, you are not overweight at all. I advise you to take hip reducing exercises in order to bring your figure into better proportion.

YOUR BABY AND MINE Parents Should Praise Child When He's Good

By Myrtle Meyer Edred
As parents we are guilty of a particular way of behaving toward our children. We are inclined to be mum when they are good and give us no trouble and berate and criticize them when they are naughty and displeasing us.

This gives the child a completely false idea of himself. He comes to realize that he is more bad than good. The only attention he gets from parents is when he misbehaves. Children being afraid of silence, take advantage of this and continue their disturbing behavior because it wins them parental notice. This is true even if the attention is disagreeable and painful. Better that than to be ignored.

In order for a child to grow into a wholesome personality he has to have the admiration, sympathy and understanding of his parents, brothers and sisters. Nowhere in the whole wide world will he ever again have the same opportunity to be a person of such heroic proportions as he can be to his loving, admiring family.

His ability to withstand the cold, more impersonal treatment of school and business life will stem directly from the feeling of self-confidence he has developed because of living in such a family. To be torn down, criticized and approved in his family underlines the very thing of his self-confidence and leads to a warped idea of himself as a person.

When a child is confronted by the conflicts that are inevitable to daily living, he has one count against him. He is already half-lost.

When parents know the results of their behavior it ought to be easy enough to correct it. They should be on the alert to praise the child, to build him up, to give him a belief in himself.

Even if he is misbehaving and needs correction or punishment, the words or acts should be directed at the behavior, not at the child. It is a good child who has erred. The behavior can be improved. The child is loved whether good or bad.

Our leader, No. 60 "How to Be a Good Parent" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to:

Myrtle Meyer Edred in care of this newspaper.

Because of a child's inferior state, because of his lack of knowledge, he is forever at a disadvantage with adults. Parents recognizing this, will make up these disadvantages by their loving, appreciative, admiring estimate of the child. It helps him to become the admirable person they would wish him to be.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Husband Should Tell Wife of His Affection

DEAR MISS DIX: If a fellow is really in love with a girl, how often should he tell her about it? My boy friend is no 26, rarely mentions his feelings to me, and I worry over it.

We are engaged now and I have been thinking that if he doesn't tell me over and over again how much he loves me before we are married, probably he will never tell me so after we are married.

That's a good idea, and how shall I tell him? I am the type of girl who needs a lot of affection. Please let me know your advice on the subject.

ANSWER: Evidently you are one of the sentimental maidens who live on in the romanticism of the past and make much of such a great mistake. If you marry a man who is a dumb love, he will make the age of congenial husband who never mentions the state of his affection but once, and out of whom it takes almost pressure to get even the ghost of a compliment.

That's a man passes into the silence as soon as he has gotten through with the chore of courtship. It is no proof that he is not devotedly in love with his wife, and that he does not think her the most wonderful woman in the world.

It is just because he feels his pouring sweet molasses into Mary Jane's ears. He has told her over and over that he adores her and he feels that it is enough for a lifetime. She should remember it.

Of course, as a matter of fact, she does remember it. No woman who loves a man ever forgets a reliable of what he said when he poured the question to her, she will want to hear it over and over again.

And that is why wives are often angry, asking their husbands "Do you love me?" "Am I as dear to you now as I was when I was a girl?" "Do you think I am as beautiful as I used to be?" If the husband has the gumption God promised a faithful spouse, he will say: "You are more dear to me now than ever."

Unfortunately, however, there are many overbearing husbands who have the gift of expressing their feelings and who only count when their wives try to extract a little sweet talk from them.

Liberals

Are Scored Over Farms

BAWLIE, June 20.—Liberal government has nothing to offer Alberta farmers facing drought, Dr. H. H. Beyerstein, Social Credit candidate for Camrose, contended in an address here.

There are 200,000 unemployed in Canada today, compared with 500,000 in depression years, he said, which was indicative of the trend in the country's economy.

LOW IS HEARD

Solna Low, national Social Credit leader, dealt with similarities and weaknesses of Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties. He said policy of the Alberta government was that no gas should be exported until needs of the province and conservation of sufficient gas to re-pressure the fields is assured.

J. Marshall, retiring federal member, was chairman and E. Sayre, provincial member, also spoke.

Golden Wedding Is Celebrated At Ferintosh

FERINTOSH, June 20.—Golden wedding anniversary was made the occasion of two parties on June 20. One was an at home reception in the afternoon of the immediate family and relatives of the honored couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pearson. They were married in Wetaskiwin in 1899, and made the trip to and from the Red Deer Lake district by train and wagon.

In the evening, the anniversary party consisted of 60 guests. Rev. L. Turmquist presided, and expressed appreciation from the Baptist Church, Mrs. Anna Erickson, at whose home the Pearsons were guests on their way to their home after their wedding, spoke of their ancient days as a pioneer near neighbor and friend.

Revival Rally At Wetaskiwin

WETASKIWIN, June 20.—Wetaskiwin's drill hall was filled to its utmost corners Wednesday afternoon when Wetaskiwin Youth for Christ presented a "Master Youth Rally," which included the "Old Fashioned Revival Hour Quartet" together with Study Almond, gospel pianist, Bob Pierce, director of Los Angeles Youth for Christ and Dan Fuller of the Old Fashioned Revival Hour program.

Seats in the spacious drill hall had been prepared for 2,000 people but there were many who were forced to stand with still an overflow gathering outside, to whom the revival service was brought by loud speakers.

The exhibition grounds were crowded almost to capacity with cars and trucks, and the odd bus. Many of them came from points a hundred miles distant.

FRIEND of the horse is Dave Baker of Wetaskiwin. He is the only man between Edmonton and Red Deer who does a general blacksmith business. Most of his four-footed customers are delivery horses.

Wetaskiwin Man Is Last Pal of Faithful Horses

By Ken Liddell
Provincial News Editor
WETASKIWIN, June 20.—

Dave Baker knows a lot about feet—horse's feet. He is the only man between Edmonton and Red Deer today who regularly puts shoes on horse's feet.

And every once in a while he thinks of moving. "There aren't enough horses to keep you in practice but just enough to give you a sore back," said Mr. Baker.

He said you would get the idea better if you had ever held a horse's hoof in your lap and tried hammering a shoe to it.

The horse stands on three feet and uses your lap for the fourth," said Mr. Baker. "It is very awkward at first but once you get the hang of it, it is not so bad."

DELIVERY HORSES
Mr. Baker has been running his own blacksmith shop in Wetaskiwin since 1923. Where most blacksmiths have foremen and apprentices, Mr. Baker does the work himself.

"Most of my four-footed customers are people who use them for delivering things in the city," said Mr. Baker. "There are 17 teams in the city. Very few farmers have horses."

"When a farmer wants horse shoes I make them and tell him to nail 'em on himself," he grinned. A blacksmith has just as much trouble getting a horse comfortable in a four-footed shoe as does a store clerk struggling to fit a pair on a fellow with cankles on both feet.

SHOE SIZES
Shoes for horses come in sizes, just like yours. Mr. Baker said they run from noughts to eights. A day horse generally wears a No. 7. And when you have a day horse with a No. 7 foot, you can't shoe him with a No. 8 shoe.

Horses wear out shoes just like people. Some wear them out on the inside before the outside. The blacksmith then trims the foot to make the shoe fit evenly.

Some horses have dainty feet. A race horse wears a shoe weighing one ounce.

"The shoe nails vary with size of the shoe and they are driven into the hoof where there is no feeling," Mr. Baker said that during the first war there were seven blacksmiths in Wetaskiwin. They were all busy because there were 13 livery stables and one had 35 head of horses.

FIRE CHIEF
In those early days the Wetaskiwin fire department got to things by horse. Mr. Baker was a member and he was also the man who put the shoes on the horses.

J. Plathan, Bandsman, Dies at 73

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, June 20.—John Plathan, who organized three bands here, never charged dues for his instruction, died at the age of 73 years.

Mr. Plathan was born in Helsingfors, Finland, and came to Alberta in 1912, working in a cannery at Red Deer until 1914 when he was located in Calgary and served four years overseas.

Argentine Pact Sawoff Sought

U.K., U.S. Officials Scurry For Face-Saving Compromise

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(AP)—British and United States officials apparently are searching for a face-saving compromise in their row over a proposed British-Argentine trade agreement.

While the issue is the most serious which has thus far entered United States relations with any country under the European Recovery Program, officials discount speculation that the United States might actually cut off some Marshall Plan aid to Britain.

SIGNING DELAYED

Rather it appeared from information available here—from the state department, ICA and the British Embassy, and from London and Buenos Aires dispatches—that a compromise is shaping up along these lines:

1. Britain and Argentina will not sign the treaty until after the state department and ICA have had a chance to study and comment on it.
2. Britain intends to go through with the five-year agreement but concedes that such two-country deals are contrary to the principles of free international trade and should be avoided whenever possible.
3. While Britain will make a firm agreement to buy specified quantities of meat from Argentina for five years, Argentina will decide each year what the wants from Britain. Thus, Argentina's purchase contracts will be renegotiated every year so that at almost any time a U.S. seller theoretically could enter the market.

NO MONOPOLY SOUGHT

This latter point is perhaps most important now under study here. British embassy officials stressed with the argument that Britain is not trying to set up Argentine trade or exclude U.S. goods from Argentine markets.

On another British point there seems to be substantial United States agreement already—that is, that a trade deal between Britain and Argentina is neutral, since each has goods the other wants and neither has the dollars to supply its needs in the United States.

Canada's textile industry now employs one out of every seven persons in Canadian industry.

BOY CHAMP PIG CALLER

MIDLAND, Ont., June 20.—(CP)—It was "pig pig" around here during the weekend as the annual hog-calling contest was held at the field day of the Simcoe County Federation of Agriculture.

The crown went to Gordon Clarke of Shanty Bay. He outshouted 16 other contestants. Eight of them were women.

OSLO.—(CP)—A series of Kiel-land stamps have been issued in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Norway's famous author Alexander L. Kielland. The stamps color are red, blue and brown.

The year was 1841 ...

... six days of turmoil—that was election week in Upper Canada! Voters formed in long queues to mount the "hustings" (a rough wooden platform) ... declaring aloud for all to hear, "I vote for John Smith." Often groups of hard-fisted toughs stood by, armed with cudgels to be used on those who voted the "wrong way."

But men who kept true democracy as their objective finally won the right of a secret ballot—the right to vote as you wish without fear of intimidation.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

Ford Asks UAW to Withdraw All Requests for 1½ Years

DETROIT, June 20.—(AP)—Ford Motor Company Saturday asked the United Automobile Workers (UAW) to withdraw all their economic demands for the next 18 months and to peg wage rates during that time to the cost of living.

In return, Ford offered to maintain its present wage rates for the same period.

Such action, said the company, would set a "stabilization pattern" for the entire (national) economy at this critical time.

The UAW turned the Ford proposal "economically unsound and unrealistic and unacceptable to the union."

UNION LETTER UNANSWERED

Union president Walter P. Reuther said the company suggestion recalls "the kind of economic police medicine administered by the men who steered our economy into the catastrophic depression of 1933."

UAW views on the matter were outlined March 10 in a letter to John Bugas, Ford vice-president. Reuther added. He said the letter not previously made public, had never been answered.

Ford said unemployment is likely to hit 5,000,000 persons this summer, and that many more are coming down the road.

JUST NO STOPPING 'EM

ROMNEY, Va., June 20.—(AP)—Destructive 11-a-h floods failed to interfere with the opening of the bass season Saturday for one hardy fisherman.

He abandoned his car seat here, put on his hip boots and waded up the road. A short time later he returned with a dandy 24-pounder caught swimming right in the middle of route 26.

Army Mess Hall Burns At Churchill

WINNIPEG, June 20.—(CP)—Five of undetermined origin early yesterday destroyed the army mess hall at Churchill, Man., military officials announced here. The entire building and contents were lost but there were no injuries.

A court of inquiry has been convened to determine the cause of the fire and the loss.

Robeson Defends His Americanism at Rally

NEW YORK, June 20.—(AP)—Paul Robeson said last night he defies "any part of an insolent, dominating America to challenge my Americanism."

The Negro baritone made the statement during an attack against discrimination at a "welcome home" rally following his tour of Europe and the Soviet Union.

Shortly before the rally, he had attended the wedding of his son, Cornell University athlete Paul Robeson, Jr., to a white girl.

LOVES SOVIET MOST

At the rally, Robeson told 3,500 persons:

"I love the Soviet people more than any other nation, because of their suffering and sacrifice for us, the Negro people, the progressive people, the people of the future of this world."

The rally was sponsored by the council on African affairs. The organization has been cited by Attorney-General Tom Clark as subversive.

Robeson recalled that in Paris he had said "it was unthinkable the Negro people of America or anywhere else in the world could be drawn into war with the Soviet Union."

"I repeat it with hundredfold emphasis. They will not," he said.

The Negro people would not accept public recognition of one per cent of their people while the other 14,000,000 suffered injustice.

MUST BE APPRECIATED

"It must be a question of appreciation for all Negroes," he said. "I can no longer be a question of an Anderson, a Carver, a Robinson, a Jackson or a Robeson. It must be a question of well-being and opportunity, not for a few, but for all this great Negro people of which I am a part."

"I never accepted an inferior role because of my race or color and by God I never will."

Marion Anderson is a noted contralto; George Washington Carver was a famed Negro scientist; Jackie Robinson, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was the first Negro to play Major-league baseball; Levi Jackson became the first Negro elected cap-

Drowning Confirmed

MONTREAL, June 20.—(CP)—Detective Capt. William Fitzpatrick said Saturday a medico-legal expert has confirmed that the death of Theodore Roosevelt Ferguson, Vancouver seaman, was due to drowning. The seaman's body was found in the St. Lawrence river Wednesday.

The homicide squad head said a Canadian Seamen's Union request for re-opening of the coroner's inquest into Ferguson's death was "pure strike propaganda."

He was referring to a request made by Eric Atkins, business agent of the striking union. Atkins said in a statement Friday that the seaman's death was "highly suspicious" and he asked for a public investigation.

Capt. Fitzpatrick said he was in a position to prove that Ferguson was drinking before his death, that there was no sign of violence and that the seaman's personal effects were found intact.

COMPETITION is essential to GOOD BANKING...

All banks are governed by strict legislation in the public and national interest but competition between banks remains free and unhampered. This is as it should be and to a great extent it is the foundation of Canada's success as a great trading nation. How different the picture might be if all banking was under one political governing body. Gone would be the flexibility and the quality of the services built by competition.

Important among these services are business and personal loans.

Among the determining factors in granting bank credit, under competitive banking, are that the purpose of the loan be a worthy one, that it will further the welfare of the borrower and be profitable to the bank.

The Bank of Toronto offers all banking services to clients large and small.
